General information to consider when opening an IRA / HSA Account

TERMINOLOGY

- IRA - An Individual Retirement Account is a tax-advantaged investment account that helps you save for retirement. The money you invest grows either tax-free or tax-deferred, depending on the type of IRA.
- Traditional IRA - An investment or savings account allowing you to save for retirement through annual contributions. Contributions and gains aren't taxed until you take money out of your account
- Roth IRA - You make contributions with money you've already paid taxes on (after-tax), and your money may potentially grow tax-free, with tax-free withdrawals in retirement, provided that certain conditions are met.
- Coverdell ESA - A Coverdell Education Savings Account, is a federally sponsored, tax-advantaged trust or custodial account set up to pay for qualified education expenses. Coverdell ESAs can be opened for any student who is under the age of 18 years.
- HSA - A Health Savings Account is a tax-advantaged medical savings account available to taxpayers who are enrolled in a high-deductible health plan (HDHP). The funds contributed to an account are not subject to federal income tax at the time of deposit
- Direct Rollover - A direct rollover is a transfer of all, or a portion of your retirement plan funds directly from one qualified retirement plan to another
- Indirect Rollover - An indirect rollover is the process of transferring funds from one qualified retirement plan to another, with the funds being sent directly to you. You have 60 days to complete an indirect rollover from one qualified retirement plan to another.
- Transfer - An IRA transfer involves moving funds to or from an individual retirement account.
